

Trusts Bill

Government Bill

Explanatory note

General policy statement

This Bill will replace the Trustee Act 1956 and the Perpetuities Act 1964 to make trust law more accessible to everyday users. The Bill clarifies and simplifies core trust principles and essential obligations for trustees to improve understanding about how trusts operate. Importantly, it also preserves the flexibility of the common law, allowing trust law to continue to evolve through the courts. A purpose of the Bill is to be enabling and avoid prescription in order to accommodate the wide range of circumstances in which trusts are used.

The Bill achieves its policy objectives by providing—

- an explanation of the interaction of the Bill with other aspects of trust law, including the common law and equity; and
- a description of the key features of an express trust; and
- mandatory and default trustee duties; and
- requirements for managing trust information and disclosing it to beneficiaries of the trust; and
- flexible trustee powers; and
- updated provisions on the exercise of trustee powers by others, such as agents and delegates; and
- the circumstances in which trustees must, or may, be removed, and options for removing and appointing trustees out of court; and
- clear rules to assist with the variation and termination of trusts; and
- a description of some of the court powers that may be exercised, and a description of where those involved in a trust can get court assistance, to support the courts' general oversight of trusts.

The Bill reflects the set of recommendations by the Law Commission following its comprehensive review of general trust law from 2009 to 2013. An exposure draft Trusts Bill was released in November 2016 for public consultation. Submitters' feedback helped to improve the practical and technical aspects of the Bill.

Clear and accessible core trust principles

The Trustee Act 1956 is outdated and no longer reflects current trust practice. Many of the provisions are difficult to understand and need to be read alongside a considerable body of case law. One of the policy objectives of the Bill is to provide clear, simple, and accessible trust law. The Bill sets out important principles of trust law that have been established through centuries of case law. Making trust law more accessible in this way, and thereby improving the understanding of these principles, will help to ensure trusts are administered properly. The Bill will also assist with enforcement of the terms of the trust against trustees where necessary.

Parts 1 and 2 of the Bill lay out the foundational provisions that explain—

- what an express trust is; and
- how an express trust is created and how long it can exist; and
- what trusts the Bill applies to; and
- how the Bill is to be interpreted and applied.

The Bill will not codify trust law in New Zealand and, with a few exceptions, is intended to largely capture and reflect the existing common law position. The aim of the general provisions of the Bill is to retain the ability of the courts in interpreting and applying the Bill to refer to many aspects of the common law and equity that relate to trusts.

The Bill will apply to all express trusts, including trusts that existed before enactment. The intention is for the Bill to be a useful and effective tool for the proper management of trusts. Therefore, existing trusts should be able to benefit from the provisions. There is an 18-month transition period from the date of commencement for existing trusts, which is to allow time for those involved in trusts to review and consider the application of the Bill to their trusts if they wish.

The Bill will also provide clearer and more accessible law for trustees and beneficiaries by describing trustees' duties and powers. Currently, there is little reference to trustee duties in the Trustee Act 1956 and various administrative powers are scattered throughout the Act. Part 3 of the Bill outlines trustee duties in simple and easy to understand language. The mandatory duties will apply to trustees of all express trusts, while the default duties can be modified or excluded by the terms of the trust. Part 4 brings together the various administrative powers of trustees, including—

- general powers of trustees to manage trust property and carry out the trust; and
- specific powers, such as investment powers and powers to use trust property for the welfare of beneficiaries; and

- the power to delegate trustees' powers and functions in specified circumstances.

The Bill removes unnecessary restrictions and provides useful and flexible powers that are necessary for the trustees to manage trust property and carry out the trust. The intention is for trustees to continue to use their powers in accordance with the terms of the trust and their duties. Part 4 also explains the general principles of trustees' liability, indemnities, and protections so trustees, and people who are dealing with trustees, have a good understanding of their legal position.

More efficient and less expensive administration of trusts

The Bill seeks to make day-to-day administration of trusts easier by providing guidance on matters that are currently unclear. For example, Part 3 of the Bill includes provisions on trustees' obligations to keep and give trust information. It sets out—

- what core documents must be kept by trustees; and
- how long core documents must be kept; and
- a presumption that trustees must provide basic information to beneficiaries; and
- what factors to consider when deciding whether to give beneficiaries information or withhold it, and the procedure to follow when trust information is to be withheld.

The Bill abolishes the common law rule known as the rule against perpetuities and repeals the Perpetuities Act 1964 because they are archaic and extremely complex. Instead, the Bill sets out a clear-cut maximum duration period of 125 years for trusts.

Part 5 of the Bill provides more comprehensive and clearer processes around the appointment and discharge of trustees, including—

- who may be appointed as a trustee and how trustees may be appointed; and
- how to accept or reject an appointment as a trustee; and
- what happens when a trustee retires or dies; and
- compulsory and optional grounds for a trustee's removal; and
- how a trustee can challenge the removal; and
- the process for transferring ownership of trust property when there is a change of trustee.

The provisions in Part 5 are intended to minimise unnecessary and costly applications to court for straightforward or uncontested changes of trustee appointments.

The courts continue to have oversight of trusts, and the Bill has no impact on the High Court's inherent jurisdiction to ensure the proper administration of trusts. Part 7 of the Bill outlines specific powers of the court to aid its administrative oversight function, including the power to—

- review a trustee's act, omission, or decision; and

- assist trustees in various aspects of their role, such as giving direction orders, varying or extending trustees' powers, or ordering the payment of a commission to a trustee.

The use of alternative dispute resolution (ADR) processes to resolve internal and external trust disputes is made generally available under the Bill, including for trustees where the terms of their trusts are silent. The purpose is to support the greater use of ADR for trust disputes. The Bill sets out what matters can be referred to ADR, the court's oversight over an ADR process if there are any unascertained or incapacitated beneficiaries, and the court's power to order an ADR process.

Departmental disclosure statement

The Ministry of Justice is required to prepare a disclosure statement to assist with the scrutiny of this Bill. The disclosure statement provides access to information about the policy development of the Bill and identifies any significant or unusual legislative features of the Bill.

Regulatory impact statement

The Ministry of Justice produced regulatory impact statements on 30 March 2016 and 18 July 2017 to help inform the main policy decisions taken by the Government relating to the contents of this Bill.

Part by Part analysis

Clause 1 is the Title clause.

Clause 2 relates to commencement. The Bill comes into force 18 months after the date on which it receives Royal assent.

Part 1

General provisions

Part 1 contains general provisions. For example,—

- clause 3 states the purpose of the Act; and
- clause 4 states principles that every person or court performing a function or duty or exercising a power under the Act must have regard to; and

- clause 5 sets out the trusts to which the Act applies and indicates the relationship of the Act with trust terms, the common law and equity, and other enactments; and
- clause 6 provides a guide to the general scheme and effect of the Act; and
- clause 7 provides for the manner in which the Act is to be interpreted; and
- clause 8 provides that a court's inherent supervisory jurisdiction is generally not affected by the Act; and
- clause 9 defines terms used in the Act.

Part 2

Express trusts

Part 2 contains fundamental provisions about express trusts, including provisions on the characteristics of express trusts and how an express trust may be created.

Clause 16 abolishes the rule against perpetuities and provides that the maximum duration of an express trust is 125 years. The terms of a trust may specify or imply a duration shorter than 125 years, and there are certain trusts, such as charitable trusts, that are not subject to the maximum duration rule and may continue indefinitely.

Part 2 also includes provisions that relate to the accumulation of income by a trust and the distribution of property on the expiry of a trust.

Part 3

Trustees' duties and information obligations

Part 3 contains provisions on the duties of a trustee and a trustee's obligations to give information to beneficiaries.

Subpart 1 addresses the duties of a trustee. It sets out 5 mandatory duties that must be performed by a trustee and cannot be modified or excluded by the terms of a trust. These include, for example, the duty to act in accordance with the terms of the trust (see clause 23) and the duty to act honestly and in good faith (see clause 24). Subpart 1 also sets out 10 default duties that must be performed by a trustee unless modified or excluded by the terms of a trust. The default duties include, for example, the duty to invest prudently (see clause 28), the duty to avoid a conflict of interest (see clause 32), and the duty for trustees to act unanimously (see clause 36).

Subpart 2 concerns exemption and indemnity clauses in trust terms. It contains provisions that restrict the use of clauses that limit or exclude a trustee's liability for breach of trust or that indemnify a trustee against the trust property for breach of trust if the breach arises from the trustee's dishonesty, wilful misconduct, or gross negligence (and renders any such clause invalid). Paid advisers are required to alert the settlor to any exemption or indemnity clause and to ensure that the settlor understands the meaning and effect of the clause.

Subpart 3 requires a trustee to keep core documents relating to the trust for the duration of the trustee's trusteeship and to pass the documents on when the trusteeship ends. Subpart 3 also contains provisions that set out the information that trustees must give to beneficiaries unless, after the trustee has considered certain factors, the presumption in favour of giving the information is displaced. The purpose of these provisions is to ensure that beneficiaries have sufficient information to enable the terms of the trust and the trustees' duties to be enforced against the trustees. Clause 50 sets out the procedure to be followed when a trustee decides to give no information.

Part 4

Trustees' powers and indemnities

Part 4 contains provisions on trustees' powers and indemnities.

Subpart 1 deals with the powers of a trustee, the exercise of trustee powers and functions by others, and the role of special trust advisers.

The powers of a trustee in Part 4 include—

- general powers to do all that is necessary to manage the trust property and to carry out the trust, including all the powers of an absolute owner of the property; and
- the power to invest trust property in any property (and matters that the trustee may consider in exercising the power to invest); and
- the power to determine whether a return on an investment is to be treated as income or capital for the purposes of distribution and of preparing and completing a financial statement; and
- the power to apportion any receipt or outgoing between the income and capital accounts of a trust, and to transfer funds between capital and income accounts for certain purposes; and
- the power to pay income on a child beneficiary's interest for the beneficiary's welfare; and
- the power to pay or apply a beneficiary's share of the capital of trust property for the beneficiary's welfare; and
- the power to apply insurance money to rebuild or repair lost or damaged property; and
- the power to adjust the interest of the beneficiaries in trust property of a portfolio trust entity.

Subpart 1 provides for the exercise of a trustee's powers and functions by another person, including the powers to—

- appoint another person to perform specified functions or powers, or make specified decisions, on the trustee's behalf; and
- hold or deal with the trust property as a nominee or custodian; and

- temporarily delegate the trustee's powers and functions in specified circumstances where a delegation is necessary.

Further provisions relating to the exercise of a trustee's powers and functions by another person include provisions on—

- the trustee's duties and liabilities when exercising those powers;
- the requirements for giving notice when a delegation is in place;
- applying to Public Trust for consent for it to become the trustee's delegate.

Subpart 1 also addresses—

- the role of a special trust adviser, including how a special trust adviser may be appointed, how a trustee may treat the special trust adviser's advice, and remuneration of a special trust adviser; and
- the trustee's limited liability in relation to the distribution of trust property where notice has been given to potential creditors and other claimants; and
- the protection of a person who receives trust property where the trustee purports to exercise a power to make a disposition for value of the trust property to that person.

Subpart 2 addresses trustee's indemnities. It includes provisions on—

- a trustee's personal liability for an expense or liability incurred when acting as a trustee, and the corresponding right to reimbursement, or discharge of the expense, from the trust property;
- the indemnification of a trustee from the trust property for a breach of trust with the agreement of all of the adult beneficiaries;
- the indemnification of a creditor from the trust property in certain circumstances where a trustee incurs an expense or liability to the creditor;
- protection from liability for a trustee delivering personal property to a life tenant or child beneficiary.

Part 5

Appointment and discharge of trustees

Part 5 contains provisions on the appointment and discharge of trustees. It addresses—

- the power to remove or to appoint a trustee, including who may have that power and how that power must be exercised; and
- the appointment of a trustee, including who may be appointed, how a trustee is appointed, and how a trustee accepts or rejects an appointment; and
- the retirement of a trustee; and
- the death of a trustee; and

- the removal of a trustee, including how a trustee may be removed, what notice is required for removal, and a trustee's application to the court to prevent removal; and
- the replacement of a trustee, including how a trustee may be replaced and the power of the court to appoint a trustee; and
- the divesting and vesting of trust property when there is a change of trustee, including how the transfer of trust property occurs, and the requirement for former trustees, continuing trustees, and new trustees to assist in the transfer.

Part 6

Termination and variation of trusts

Part 6 contains provisions on the termination and variation of trusts at the request of beneficiaries. The provisions—

- empower a trustee to terminate a trust and distribute the trust property, vary a trust, or resettle a trust at the request of all of the beneficiaries who together hold all of the beneficial interest in the trust property if certain conditions are satisfied; and
- empower a trustee to distribute a fixed share of trust property to the beneficiary of that share if certain conditions are satisfied; and
- empower the court to approve a termination, variation, or resettlement of a trust on behalf of certain beneficiaries, or to waive the requirement that a particular beneficiary consent to a termination, variation, or resettlement of a trust.

Part 7

Court powers and dispute resolution

Part 7 contains provisions regarding the powers of the High Court (the court), vesting orders, the Family Court, and alternative dispute resolution.

The powers of the court in Part 7 include the powers to—

- review an act, omission, or decision of a trustee on the ground that it was not reasonably open to a trustee in the circumstances; and
- set off a loss resulting from an investment of trust property against a gain resulting from another investment of the trust property; and
- vary or extend the powers of trustees of a trust; and
- relieve a trustee from personal liability for a breach of trust; and
- make an order indemnifying a trustee out of a particular beneficiary's interest in trust property; and
- give directions to a trustee about the trust property or the exercise of a power or performance of a function by the trustee; and

- bar any person's claim that affects the trust property or authorise a trustee to administer the trust property without regard to the claim; and
- make an order authorising a trustee to distribute missing beneficiaries' shares of trust property; and
- appoint a receiver for a trust; and
- order the payment out of trust property of a commission to a trustee; and
- order that costs of a court application be paid from trust property or in the way, and by the persons, that the court considers just.

Part 7 also provides for the court to make vesting orders for the purpose of the sale or mortgage of land, or the specific performance of a contract.

Under Part 7, the Family Court may make an order or give a direction that is available under the Bill in relation to a proceeding where it has jurisdiction to hear and determine the proceeding under section 11 of the Family Court Act 1980.

The provisions relating to ADR include provisions providing for—

- the power of a trustee to refer an internal or external trust matter to ADR; and
- the power of the court to appoint representatives for unascertained or incapacitated beneficiaries; and
- the power of a court to require an ADR process; and
- the trustee's liability in relation to an ADR settlement.

The Parliament of New Zealand enacts as follows:

1 Title

This Act is the Trusts Act 2017.

2 Commencement

This Act comes into force on the day that is 18 months after the date on which it receives the Royal assent. 5

Part 1
General provisions

3 Purpose

The purpose of this Act is to restate and reform New Zealand trust law by— 10

- (a) setting out the core principles of the law relating to express trusts; and
- (b) providing for default administrative rules for express trusts; and
- (c) providing for mechanisms to resolve trust-related disputes; and
- (d) making the law of trusts more accessible.

4 Principles

Every person or court performing a function or duty or exercising a power under this Act must have regard to the following principles:

- (a) a trust should be administered in a way that is consistent with its terms and objectives:
- (b) a trust should be administered in a way that avoids unnecessary cost and complexity. 20

5 Application, and relationship of Act with trust terms, common law and equity, and other enactments

Trusts to which this Act applies

- (1) This Act applies only to express trusts that are governed by New Zealand law.
- (2) However,— 5
- (a) this Act also applies to a trust that is not an express trust but that is created by or under an enactment, if the application of this Act is consistent with the purpose, text, and context of that enactment and necessary for the due administration of the trust; and
- (b) a court may, where necessary or appropriate, apply the provisions of this Act to any of the following that are governed by New Zealand law: 10
- (i) a resulting trust:
- (ii) a constructive trust:
- (iii) a trust that does not satisfy the definition of express trust but that is recognised at common law or in equity as being a trust. 15

Interrelationship between Act and terms of trust

- (3) This Act applies to all express trusts despite anything to the contrary in the terms of a trust, except that—
- (a) Schedule 2 specifies which provisions of this Act may be modified or excluded by the terms of a trust (and for some of those provisions, specifies conditions limiting the extent to which the provisions may be modified or excluded); and 20
- (b) Schedule 3 provides that the application of certain provisions of this Act is or may be modified or excluded in relation to specified commercial trusts. 25
- (4) The terms of a trust may impose duties and restrictions on a trustee additional to those provided for in this Act.

Interrelationship between Act and common law and equity

- (5) This Act—
- (a) is not an exhaustive code of the law relating to express trusts; and 30
- (b) is intended to be complemented by the rules of the common law and equity relating to trusts (except where otherwise indicated or where those rules are inconsistent with the provisions of this Act).

Interrelationship between Act and other enactments

- (6) If there is an inconsistency between the provisions of this Act and those of any other enactment, the provisions of that other enactment prevail, unless this Act provides otherwise. 35

6 Overview of this Act

- (1) This section is a guide to the general scheme and effect of this Act.
- General provisions*
- (2) Part 1 contains general provisions, including provisions that—
- (a) state the purpose and principles of this Act; and 5
  - (b) set out to which trusts the Act applies; and
  - (c) set out the relationship of the Act with the terms of a trust, the common law and equity, and other enactments; and
  - (d) set out how this Act is to be interpreted; and
  - (e) define certain terms used in this Act. 10
- (3) This Act generally applies only to express trusts, but there are some exceptions (see section 5(1) and (2)). An express trust is one that is deliberately set up by a settlor, as opposed to a trust that arises by operation of law or the order of a court.
- (4) Express trusts are to be administered in accordance with their terms and objectives (see section 4). 15
- (5) This Act sets out legal duties, powers, and processes applicable to trusts. Some of these duties, powers, and processes apply in all express trusts despite what is stated in the terms of a particular trust, while others may be modified or excluded by the terms of a particular trust (see section 5(3)(a) and Schedule 2). 20
- Express trusts*
- (6) Part 2 contains fundamental provisions about express trusts. An express trust is a relationship in which a settlor places property on trust to be held by 1 or more trustees for the benefit of beneficiaries or a permitted purpose. As a fiduciary, each trustee owes duties and is accountable for how the trust property is managed and distributed (see sections 12 to 15). 25
- (7) Part 2 includes provisions that—
- (a) set out the characteristics of an express trust; and
  - (b) specify how an express trust may be created; and
  - (c) specify the maximum duration of most express trusts (which is 125 30 years) and abolish the rule against perpetuities; and
  - (d) specify the age of majority for the purposes of an express trust (which is 18).
- Trustees' duties and information obligations*
- (8) Part 3 relates to the duties and information obligations that are part of the role of trustee. In particular, it contains provisions that— 35
- (a) set out the mandatory duties that apply to trustees of all express trusts; and

- (b) set out the default duties that apply to trustees of a trust unless the terms of the trust modify or exclude those duties; and
- (c) restrict the use of trustee exemption clauses and trustee indemnity clauses (which limit the degree to which trustees can be held accountable for certain misconduct) in the terms of a trust; and 5
- (d) set out the documents that must be kept by trustees and the information that trustees must give to beneficiaries (and that aim to ensure that beneficiaries have sufficient information to enable the terms of the trust to be enforced against the trustees).
- Trustees' powers and indemnities* 10
- (9) Part 4 relates to the powers trustees have in their role and sets out the indemnities that apply to trustees. It includes provisions that—
- (a) provide for the general powers of trustees to manage trust property (which give trustees all the powers necessary to carry out the role); and
- (b) provide for certain specific powers of trustees, such as the power to invest trust property and powers to use trust property for the welfare of a beneficiary outside of the powers relating to distribution of trust property specified in the terms of the trust; and 15
- (c) set out the power of a trustee to appoint others to exercise certain powers or perform certain functions in relation to the trust and specify which powers can be given to others in this way; and 20
- (d) set out the power of a trustee to delegate all of the trustee's powers and functions to another person in specified circumstances when the trustee is temporarily not able to carry out the role; and
- (e) provide for the appointment of a non-trustee adviser (a special trust adviser) to advise on matters relating to a trust; and 25
- (f) set out certain indemnities of a trustee (that is, the right of a trustee to be reimbursed for an expense or a liability out of the trust property) and protections for trustees.
- Appointment and discharge of trustees* 30
- (10) Part 5 relates to who may be a trustee and how the role may start and end. It includes provisions that set out—
- (a) who may be appointed as a trustee (and who is disqualified); and
- (b) how trustees may be appointed and by whom; and
- (c) how a person may accept or reject appointment as a trustee; and 35
- (d) how a trustee may retire; and
- (e) how a trustee may be removed (and the procedure a trustee can use to challenge the removal); and

- (f) how legal ownership of the trust property is changed when there is a change of trustee.

Termination and variation of trusts at request of beneficiaries

- (11) Part 6 contains provisions that enable beneficiaries acting together to decide to bring a trust to an end, vary the terms of the trust, or resettle the trust property on a new trust. 5

Court powers and dispute resolution

- (12) Part 7 relates to the powers that the court has in relation to trusts, and enables the use of alternative dispute resolution. It includes provisions that—
- (a) set out the court’s general power to review an act, an omission, or a decision of a trustee, and the procedure for this review; and 10
- (b) set out powers of the court in relation to actions involving trusts; and
- (c) set out applications that a trustee may make to the court, including a general ability to apply to the court for directions; and
- (d) give the Family Court the power to exercise jurisdiction under this Act in specified circumstances; and 15
- (e) provide for alternative dispute resolution processes to be used to resolve internal and external trust disputes.

Miscellaneous provisions

- (13) Part 8 contains miscellaneous provisions, including provisions— 20
- (a) relating to the transfer of trust property to the Crown; and
- (b) relating to the investigation of the condition and accounts of certain trust property; and
- (c) empowering the making of transitional regulations; and
- (d) relating to consequential amendments and repeals. 25

Amendments to other Acts

- (14) Part 9 contains amendments to other Acts.

Schedules

- (15) Schedule 1 contains transitional, savings, and related provisions.
- (16) Schedule 2 specifies which provisions of this Act may be modified or excluded by the terms of a trust (and for some of those provisions, specifies conditions limiting the extent to which the provisions may be modified or excluded). 30
- (17) Schedule 3 defines specified commercial trust and provides that the application of certain provisions of the Act do not apply to those trusts or apply with modifications. 35
- (18) Schedule 4 sets out consequential amendments to other Acts.
- (19) Schedule 5 provides for amendments consequential on the repeal of the Perpetuities Act 1964 and the rule against perpetuities.

7 Interpretation of Act

- (1) This Act—
- (a) must be interpreted in a way that promotes its purpose and principles; and
  - (b) is not subject to any rule that statutes in derogation of the common law should be strictly construed; but 5
  - (c) may be interpreted having regard to the common law and equity, but only to the extent that the common law and equity are consistent with—
    - (i) its provisions; and
    - (ii) the promotion of its purpose and principles. 10
- (2) Subsection (1) does not affect the application of the Interpretation Act 1999 to this Act.

Compare: 2006 No 69 s 10

8 Inherent jurisdiction of court not affected

- (1) The inherent jurisdiction of a court to supervise and intervene in the administration of a trust is not affected by this Act, except to the extent that this Act provides otherwise. 15
- (2) Despite subsection (1), a court must have regard to the purpose and the principles of this Act when exercising its inherent jurisdiction.

(1) There is a presumption that a trustee must make available to every beneficiary or representative of a beneficiary the basic trust information set out in subsection (3).

(2) However,—

48 Presumption that trustee must give information on request

(1) There is a presumption that a trustee must within a reasonable period of time give a beneficiary or the representative of a beneficiary the trust information that person has requested. 35

- (2) However,—
- (a) before giving the information, the trustee must consider the factors set out in section 49; and
  - (b) if the trustee reasonably considers (after taking into account those factors) that the information should not be given to the person,— 5
    - (i) the presumption does not apply; and
    - (ii) the trustee may decide to refuse the request for trust information.

Compare: R6(2)(b)

49 Procedure for deciding whether presumption applies

The factors that the trustee must consider (for the purposes of sections 47(2)(a) and 48(2)(a)) are the following: 10

- (a) the nature of the interests in the trust held by the beneficiary and the other beneficiaries of the trust, including the degree and extent of the beneficiary's interest in the trust and the likelihood of the beneficiary receiving trust property in the future: 15
- (b) whether the information is subject to personal or commercial confidentiality:
- (c) the expectations and intentions of the settlor at the time of the creation of the trust (if known) as to whether the beneficiaries as a whole and the beneficiary in particular would be given information: 20
- (d) the age and circumstances of the beneficiary:
- (e) the age and circumstances of the other beneficiaries of the trust:
- (f) the effect on the beneficiary of giving the information:
- (g) the effect on the trustees, other beneficiaries of the trust, and third parties of giving the information: 25
- (h) in the case of a family trust, the effect of giving the information on—
  - (i) relationships within the family:
  - (ii) the relationship between the trustees and some or all of the beneficiaries to the detriment of the beneficiaries as a whole:
- (i) in a trust that has a large number of beneficiaries or unascertainable beneficiaries, the practicality of giving information to all beneficiaries or all members of a class of beneficiaries: 30
- (j) the practicality of imposing restrictions and other safeguards on the use of the information (for example, by way of an undertaking, or restricting who may inspect the documents): 35
- (k) the practicality of giving some or all of the information to the beneficiary in redacted form:

- (l) if a beneficiary has requested information, the nature and context of the request:
- (m) any other factor that the trustee reasonably considers is relevant to determining whether the presumption applies.

50 Procedure when trustee decides to give no information

- (1) This section applies in relation to a trust if, as a result of 1 or more of the following circumstances or events, no beneficiary has any trust information:
  - (a) the trustee cannot identify any beneficiary to whom information can be given: 10
  - (b) the trustee decides under section 47(2)(b) to withhold all of the basic trust information from all beneficiaries:
  - (c) the trustee decides under section 48(2) to refuse a request for trust information.
- (2) The trustee must apply to the court for directions in relation to— 15
  - (a) whether the trustee's determination that there is no beneficiary to whom information can be given, or to withhold information or refuse a request for information, is reasonable in the circumstances; and
  - (b) the alternative means by which the trustee can be accountable and the trust can be enforced. 20
- (3) However, the trustee is not required to apply to the court for directions if—
  - (a) the period during which no beneficiary has any trust information is less than 12 months; and
  - (b) at the end of that period, the trustee gives to at least 1 beneficiary of the trust— 25
    - (i) the basic trust information; and
    - (ii) the reasons for not giving the information earlier.
- (4) In giving directions under this section, the court must take into account the following principles:
  - (a) trust information may be withheld from all beneficiaries only in exceptional circumstances: 30
  - (b) alternative means of enforcing a trust pending disclosure of information to beneficiaries must be consistent with the objectives of the trust and not adversely affect its administration.

51 Beneficiary may be required to pay cost of giving information

35

A trustee may require the beneficiary to whom trust information is given under section 48 or in accordance with the terms of the trust to pay the reasonable cost of giving that information.

- (3) A person appointed under subsection (1) or under any comparable power in the terms of the trust—

  - (b) to fulfil the trustee’s duties under section 64.

66 Trustee's power to delegate powers and functions in specified circumstances

- (1) Despite sections 63 and 64, a trustee may, by power of attorney, delegate all or any of the trustee's powers and functions under the trust to any person qualified to be a trustee under section 90. 5
- (2) However, the power may be exercised only if the delegation is necessary (or the trustee expects that it may from time to time become necessary) because of the trustee's—
- (a) absence from New Zealand; or
  - (b) temporary inability to be contacted; or 10
  - (c) temporary physical incapability; or
  - (d) temporary lack of capacity to perform the functions of a trustee.
- (3) The delegation—
- (a) commences when the circumstance in subsection (2) occurs or begins; and 15
  - (b) continues for the shorter of—
    - (i) the duration of the circumstance in subsection (2); and
    - (ii) 12 months.
- (4) If a delegation has been in place for 12 months and the circumstance in subsection (2) continues, the delegation may be extended by the delegating trustee (or the trustee's delegate in cases to which subsection (2)(d) applies) for the shorter of— 20
- (a) the remaining duration of the circumstance in subsection (2); and
  - (b) a further 12 months.
- (5) A trustee may delegate powers to a sole co-trustee only if that sole co-trustee is a statutory trustee. 25
- (6) A delegate may exercise the delegating trustee's power to resign.
Compare: Trustee Act 1925 s 25 (UK)

67 Notice of delegation of trustee's powers and functions

- (1) Not later than 5 working days after delegation commences, the delegating trustee (or, if the trustee is incapable, the delegate) must notify any co-trustees and any person with the power to remove or to appoint trustees of the following: 30
- (a) the date on which the delegation commences:
  - (b) the duration of the delegation: 35
  - (c) the name and contact details of the delegate:
  - (d) the reason for the delegation:

- (e) which powers are delegated, if only some are delegated.
- (2) If a document of delegation is signed but is to take effect only if a circumstance that would make a delegation necessary occurs, the delegating trustee (or, if the trustee is incapable, the delegate) must, not later than 5 working days after the document is signed, notify any co-trustees and any person with the power to remove or to appoint trustees. 5
- (3) For a sole delegating trustee, it is sufficient compliance with subsections (1) and (2) if the trustee (or, if the sole trustee is incapable, the trustee's delegate) notifies—
- (a) any person with the power to remove or to appoint trustees; or 10
- (b) if there is no person authorised under paragraph (a), all competent adult beneficiaries; or
- (c) if, in the circumstances, it is unreasonable or impracticable to comply with paragraph (b), a reasonably representative sample of beneficiaries. 15
- (4) However, a trustee or delegate is not required to comply with notification requirements under subsection (3)(b) or (c) if the trustee or delegate reasonably considers, after taking into account the factors in section 49(2), that beneficiaries should not be notified.
- (5) Failure to comply with a notification requirement under this section does not invalidate any act done or document executed by the delegate in favour of a person dealing with a trustee's delegate. 20

Compare: Trustee Act 1925 s 25 (UK)

68 Trustee's liability for acts of delegate limited

The trustee is not liable in a proceeding brought by or on behalf of a beneficiary for any act or default of a delegate appointed under section 66 unless the trustee failed, in appointing the delegate, to fulfil any of the trustee's mandatory duties or the general duty of care in section 27 (to the extent that it applies). 25

- (a) if the trustee has paid the expense or discharged the liability out of the trustee’s own funds, to reimbursement from the trust property; or
- (b) in any other case, to pay the expense or discharge the liability directly from the trust property (or to have it paid or discharged by a remaining trustee). 15

- Compare: 1956 No 61 s 38(2)

78 Indemnification of trustee with agreement of beneficiaries where indemnity impaired

- (1) A trustee may be indemnified from the trust property for a breach of trust if all of the adult beneficiaries agree. 25
- (2) However, the beneficiaries cannot indemnify the trustee if the breach of trust arises from the trustee’s dishonesty, wilful misconduct, or gross negligence.
- (3) In this section,—
- adult beneficiaries means the beneficiaries who are together absolutely entitled to the trust property, but does not include any beneficiary who lacks capacity 30
- lacks capacity means, in relation to a beneficiary, a beneficiary who—

- (a) the trustee; or
  - (b) a creditor; or
  - (c) a beneficiary.
- 80 Creditor's limited claim to trust property through trustee's indemnity

- (a) has a right to be indemnified from the trust property; or
  - (b) for any reason is not entitled to be fully indemnified from the trust property (for example, because the trustee incurred the liability in breach of trust) but— 20
    - (i) the creditor has given value; and
    - (ii) the trust has received a benefit from the transaction between the trustee and the creditor; and
    - (iii) the creditor has acted in good faith.
- (2) The creditor has a claim against the trustee that may be satisfied by the creditor being indemnified from the trust property as if the creditor were a trustee. 25
- (3) The creditor has not acted in good faith for the purposes of subsection (1)(b)(iii) if the creditor had knowledge of any circumstances that excluded or limited the trustee's indemnity (whether or not the creditor knew it would have that effect). 30
- (4) A claim under this section—
- (a) is limited to the value given by the creditor; and
  - (b) must be paid in priority over any payment to a beneficiary, unless the court orders otherwise; and
  - (c) does not alter the priority of creditors who are entitled to claim from the trust property. 35
- (5) This section applies in respect of a former trustee who incurs an expense or a liability as a trustee acting on behalf of the trust.

- (b) any indemnity given for any rent, covenant, or agreement mentioned in paragraph (a).
- (2) The trustee may assign the lease to a person entitled to call for an assignment of the lease if the trustee— 15
- (a) satisfies all liabilities under the lease that may have accrued, and been claimed, up to the date of the assignment; and
- (b) if necessary, sets apart a fund that is enough to pay any future claim that may be made in relation to a fixed and ascertained amount that the lessee agreed to expend on the leased property (even though the time for expending the amount may not yet have arrived). 20
- (3) If the trustee acts under subsection (2), the trustee—
- (a) is not required to appropriate any further amount from the trust property to meet any future liability under the lease; and 25
- (b) may distribute the remaining trust property, other than any fund set apart under subsection (2)(b), to the persons entitled to the trust property.
- (4) A trustee who acts under subsection (2) and distributes the remaining trust property under subsection (3)(b) is not personally liable for any later claim under the lease. 30
- (5) This section does not affect the right of the lessor, or a person deriving title under the lessor, to follow the trust property into the hands of the persons to whom it was distributed.

  - (c) give the person a copy of the inventory and keep a copy.
- (3) On and after the delivery of the property, the trustee—
- (a) is not required to repair or insure the property; and
  - (b) is not liable for any loss or destruction of the property or the failure of the person to repair or insure the property. 10
- (4) A copy of the inventory signed by the person and the trustee is a security interest for the purposes of the Personal Property Securities Act 1999, and a financing statement may be registered accordingly.

98 Notice of decision to remove

- (1) A person who makes a decision under section 97 to remove a trustee must give that trustee notice of the decision.
- (2) However, the person is not required to give notice of the decision if, despite the person's reasonable efforts to locate and contact the trustee, it is not known where the trustee is and the trustee cannot be contacted. 30

99 Effect of notice

- (1) This subsection applies in relation to a person who is removed under section 97(1) and who—
- (a) is subject to an order appointing a manager under section 31 of the Protection of Personal and Property Rights Act 1988; or 35

  - (b) is executed and takes effect when it is given under section 98(1).
- (3) In the case of a trustee who receives a notice under section 98(1) and in relation to whom subsection (1) does not apply, the notice— 5
- (a) is the document of removal for the purposes of section 108; and

    - (i) 21 working days after the trustee receives the notice, if the trustee has not made an application under section 101; or
    - (ii) only if and when ordered by the court, if the trustee has made an application under section 101. 10

100 Removal where notice cannot be given

- (1) If the person who makes the decision to remove a trustee is not required to give notice of the decision because section 98(2) applies, the person must make a statutory declaration recording— 15
- (a) the person's decision; and
  - (b) the efforts the person has made to locate and contact the trustee.
- (2) The declaration—
- (a) is the document of removal for the purposes of section 108; and

Whenever it is necessary or desirable to remove a trustee and it is difficult or impracticable to do so without the assistance of the court, the court may make an order removing a trustee.

*Replacement of trustee105 How trustee is replaced

(1) If a trustee retires or is removed or dies while in office and it is necessary (because the trustee was a sole trustee or because the terms of the trust require it) to replace the trustee, a person with the power to appoint trustees must appoint a replacement trustee.

(2) If a trustee retires or is removed or dies while in office and it is not necessary to replace the trustee (because the number of remaining trustees meets or exceeds the minimum number specified in the terms of the trust), a person with the power to appoint trustees may, but need not, appoint a replacement trustee.

(3) The appointment of a trustee to replace a trustee who has been removed takes effect only when the removal takes effect under section 99(2) or (3), 100(2), or 104.

20

106 Court may appoint or replace trustee

(1) Whenever it is necessary or desirable to appoint a new trustee and it is difficult or impracticable to do so without the assistance of the court, the court may make an order appointing a new trustee.

(2) However, this section does not empower the court to appoint an executor or administrator.

(3) If the court proposes to appoint Public Trust as the replacement trustee, the court must, before making the appointment, give Public Trust an opportunity to be heard on the matter.

30

(4) If the court (except on application by a supervisor within the meaning of section 6(1) of the Financial Markets Conduct Act 2013) appoints Public Trust as the replacement trustee, Public Trust—

(a) must accept the appointment; and

(b) may charge fees for acting as trustee.

35

Compare: 1956 No 61 ss 46(4), (5), 51(1), (4)

107 Replacing sole trustee with multiple trustees

- (3) Subsection (2) is subject to section 109.
- (4) In this section and in section 109, a court order appointing a trustee or removing a trustee without replacement—

  - (b) is, for the purposes of section 89 of the Land Transfer Act 2017, a vesting order vesting the trust property in the persons who become and are the trustees (unless the court otherwise orders).

109 Requirements to notify, register, or record divesting and vesting of trust property

- (1) If, or to the extent that, the divesting and vesting of trust property must be notified, registered, or recorded under the requirements of another Act,—
- (a) the divesting and vesting are subject to the requirements and do not take effect until the requirements are satisfied; and
  - (b) the execution of the document of appointment, removal, or discharge vests in the persons who become and are the trustees a right to call for the transfer of the trust property; and 30
  - (c) a copy of that document or those documents and a statutory declaration by a continuing or new trustee of the trust that each relevant document was validly executed are sufficient proof of a right claimed under paragraph (b). 35

- (2) Subsection (1)(c) does not apply where the document is a court order, and a copy of the order is sufficient proof of a right claimed under subsection (1)(b).

110 Requirement to assist in transfer of trust property

- (1) The following persons must do all things necessary to assist in any transfer and any required notification, registration, or recording of the divesting and vesting of the trust property: 5

- (3) For the purposes of subsection (2), and without limiting that subsection, a person loses the capacity to perform the functions of a trustee if the person— 15

- (2) The documents must be given as soon as any requirements relating to the transfer, or notification, registration, or recording of the transfer, of trust property referred to in section 109 are complete.

Court powers and dispute resolution

118 Court may review trustee's act, omission, or decision

- (1) The court may review the act, omission, or decision (including a proposed act, omission, or decision) of a trustee on the ground that the act, omission, or decision was not or is not reasonably open to the trustee in the circumstances. 5
- (2) The court may undertake a review on the application only of a beneficiary.
- (3) The review must be conducted in accordance with section 119.
- (4) This section and section 119 do not limit or affect—
  - (a) the court's jurisdiction to supervise trusts, including its jurisdiction under the Charitable Trusts Act 1957; or 10
  - (b) the Attorney-General's powers and duties with respect to charitable trusts, including powers and duties under the Charitable Trusts Act 1957.

119 Procedure for court's review of trustee's act, omission, or decision

- (1) An applicant for a review under section 118 must produce evidence that raises a genuine and substantial dispute as to whether the act, omission, or decision in question was or is reasonably open to the trustee in the circumstances. 15
- (2) If the court is satisfied that the applicant has established a genuine and substantial dispute, the onus is on the trustee to establish that the act, omission, or decision was or is reasonably open to the trustee in the circumstances. 20
- (3) If the court, after hearing the trustee, is satisfied on the balance of probabilities that the act, omission, or decision was not or is not reasonably open to the trustee in the circumstances, the court may (but subject to subsection (4))—
  - (a) set aside the act or decision, or direct the trustee to act in the case of an omission: 25
  - (b) restrain the trustee from acting or deciding in the case of a proposed act or decision, and direct the trustee to act in the case of a proposed omission:
  - (c) make any other orders that the court considers necessary.

  - (a) a valid distribution of the trust property that was made before the trustee had notice of the application; or
  - (b) any right or title acquired by a person in good faith and for value.

120 Court may take into account investment strategy in action for breach of trust

In considering whether a trustee is liable, in respect of any investment made by that trustee, for any breach of trust in respect of any duty under section 28 (to invest prudently to the applicable standard), the court may take into account— 5

- (a) whether the trust investments have been diversified, so far as is appropriate to the circumstances of the trust; and
- (b) whether the investment was made in accordance with any investment strategy.

Compare: 1956 No 61 s 13M 10

121 Court may set off gains and losses arising from investment

- (1) This section applies to a proceeding for breach of trust in relation to an investment by a trustee if a loss has been or is suspected to have been incurred by the trust.
- (2) The court may set off all or part of the loss resulting from the investment against all or part of any gain resulting from any other investment whether in breach of trust or not. 15
- (3) The power does not limit or affect any other power or entitlement to set off all or part of any loss against any property.

Compare: 1956 No 61 s 13Q 20

122 Power of court to vary or extend trustees' powers in relation to property

- (1) The court may vary or extend the powers of the trustees of a trust if—
  - (a) the court considers that the variation or extension is necessary or desirable for the proper management of the trust property; and
  - (b) the variation or extension does not alter a beneficiary's interest under the trust; and 25
  - (c) the variation or extension does not involve a power to distribute trust property to a beneficiary.
- (2) An application for an order may be made by—
  - (a) a trustee of the trust; or 30
  - (b) a beneficiary of the trust.

123 Court may relieve trustee from personal liability

Compare: 1956 No 61 s 66
- 126 Protection of trustee while acting under direction of court 20
- (1) A trustee acting under any direction of the court must be treated as having discharged the trustee's duties as a trustee in relation to the direction, even though the order giving the direction is later declared invalid, overruled, set aside, or found to be otherwise ineffective.
- (2) However, subsection (1) does not indemnify a trustee for any act done in accordance with a direction of the court if the trustee has acted in bad faith in— 25
- (a) getting the direction; or
- (b) acquiescing in the court making the order or giving the direction.
Compare: 1956 No 61 s 69

- (2) Before making an application, a trustee must have served on the person, in accordance with the rules of court, a notice—

- (a) describing the general nature of the claim as the trustee understands it to be; and
  - (b) stating that if a legal proceeding is not, within 90 days after the service of the notice, commenced to enforce the claim, a court may bar the claim or authorise the trustee to administer the trust property without regard to it. 5
- (3) The court may not make an order under this section barring—
- (a) a claim under the Family Protection Act 1955; or
  - (b) an application for revocation of a grant of administration.
- (4) An order made by the court does not affect the right of any beneficiary of the trust to contest a claim by the trustee to any payment or indemnity from the trust property unless the beneficiary is a party to the proceeding. 10

Compare: 1956 No 61 s 75

128 Trustee may apply to court to allow distribution of missing beneficiaries' shares 15

- (1) The court may, on application by a trustee, make an order authorising the trustee to distribute trust property—
- (a) as if a potential beneficiary or a class of potential beneficiaries does not exist or never existed or has died before a date or an event specified; and
  - (b) if, because of the order, it is not possible or practicable to determine whether any condition or requirement affecting a beneficial interest in the property or any part of it has been complied with or fulfilled, as if that condition or requirement had been or had not been complied with or fulfilled. 20
- (2) The court may make an order only if it is satisfied that— 25
- (a) reasonable measures have been taken to bring to the notice of the potential beneficiary or beneficiaries their potential beneficial interest or interests; and
  - (b) at least 60 days have passed since the last of those measures was taken; and 30
  - (c) no potential beneficiary with respect to whom an order is sought has come to the attention of the trustee as a result of those measures, or the claim of any such beneficiary may be disregarded in the circumstances.

Compare: 1956 No 61 s 76
